

Pattern Identification Template

Google UX Design Certificate

1. It was observed that 4 out of 5 participants had trouble clicking on all the details buttons. This means that all buttons need to be fixed by changing their size and space.
2. It was observed that 2 out of 5 participants felt confused would have to pay or if they pay for them in the new “invite your friends” feature. This means that the feature needs to find a clear objective that people can easily identify.
3. It was observed that 4 out of 5 participants were confused/frustrated identifying the movies and why these ones don't have the price included . This means that the movie section needs to be clear, easy to identify, and add the prices of these.

